has a population of 2,500, which number, is being rapidly argumented. It is situated on the Sacramento river, 70 feet above that stream, which at this point would afford splendid power for manufactories. It is a large and important shipping station on the Shasta div. S. P. R. R., controlling the trade of a large portion of the northern counties, the products of which are wool, ore, fruit, lumber and lime. It lies 234 miles north of San Francisco and 177 from Sacramento. The principal features of the city are a bank, capital $100,000, saw and planing mills, foundry and machine shops, 2 schools, with 6 teachers and 350 pupils, Presbyterian, Methodist, Catholic and Baptist churches, Major's Hall, seating 500, gas and water works and a fire department. The papers published are the Free Press, daily and weekly, and the Shasta county Democrat, weekly. Amongst the buildings recently erected here may be mentioned the Hoff, Deakin and Conroy buildings, cost $8,000, $4,000 and $15.000. Work has been commenced on the Railroad Hotel, which will be 116x100 feet, 2 stories high, and is designed as a resort for tourists, hunters and parties of leisure. The grounds surrounding will be beautified by lawn and shrubbery, with enough orange, lemon, olive and other semi-tropical trees to show what the climate and soil will produce. Exp., W. F. & Co. RIVERSIDE. This flourishing and attractive city is situated on the Santa Ana river, in San Bernardino county, and is on the Cal. Central R. R., 12 miles south of San Bernardino, the county seat. It is the second place of importance in the county, and owing to its many advantages is growing rapidly in wealth and population. Magnolia avenue, 14 miles long, is the finest double drive in the state, from Riverside to South Riverside, and it is here where the famous navel orange grows to perfection. The city contains amongst its prominent features 3 banks, the same number of newspapers, the Press and Horticulturist, daily and weekly, and the Valley Echo, weekly, 10 churches, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Universalist, Congregational, United Brethren, Catholic, Christian, Episcopal and Swedenborgian, 8 schools, with the same number of teachers and 400 pupils, gas and water works, a fire department, four lines of street railway and telephone connection. The assessed value of real and personal property of the city is $3,500,000, with no bonded indebtedness. The S. P. Co., with characteristic enterprise, will soon have a branch here, having already purchased grounds for terminal buildings. A magnificent new hotel is in process of construction on a bluff overlooking the city. The Pavilion has seating capacity for 1,000. Population, 6,000. Tel., W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. Mail, daily. Jacob Van de Grift, postmaster.

SACRAMENTO. Sacramento city, the county seat of Sacramento county, and the capital of the state, is situated on the east bank of the Sacramento river, immediately south of its confluence with the American river, in the heart of the richest agricultural section of California. It was settled in 1840 by Capt. John A. Sutter, who then established Sutter's Fort, which is now an eastern portion of the city. It was incorporated as a city Feb. 27, 1850. On April 24, 1858, the governments of the city and county were consolidated. On April 25, 1863, the present charter, incorporating the city only, was passed. The first railroad in California, extending from Sacramento into El Dorado county, was opened Feb. 22, 1856. Work on the Central Pacific R. R. commenced at Sacramento, January 1863, the last spike was driven May 10, 1869. Sacramento has 54 trains daily entering, and is on the line of the California & Oregon, Western Pacific, Central Pacific, California Pacific, and Sacramento & Placerville railroads. All of these roads are of the Southern Pacific system, the shops of which are located in the city, and now furnish employment to 2,400 men; the monthly payroll amounts to $150,000, and everything used in connection with the railroad, from a locomotive to a cold chisel, is made here. A line of steamers runs to San Francisco, on the Sacramento river and the bays, and another as far up the river as Red Bluff. The capital of California was located at Sacramento, Feb. 25, 1854, and in 1869 the present capitol building was completed at a cost of $3,000,000. In the Capitol Park are also the Exposition Pavilion of the State Agricultural Society and the State Printing Office, in which are printed, in addition to the state work, the textbooks for use in the public schools. The State Agricultural Society has also an extensive park for the exhibition of stock, and one of the finest race tracks in the world. The state fairs are annually held in September. The Masons and Odd Fellows have each imposing temples. An appropriation of $150,000 has been made for the erection of a new postoffice, on a site which has recently been purchased by the U. S. government. The county court-house cost $200,000 and the record office $50,000. The county hospital, which can accommodate 175 patients, cost $75,000. There are in the city 27 hotels, 1 National and 3 commercial and savings banks, 3 daily, 2 semi-weekly (German), 4 weekly newspapers, and 3 monthlies. All religious denominations are represented. The Catholic Cathedral, now in course of erection, will cost $300,000. There are 12 public schools, 3 colleges, 4 private schools and 1 art school, which is in connection with the Crocker Art Gallery. The latter was presented to the city by Mrs. Margaret E Crocker, widow of Judge E. B. Crocker, and contains 750 costly paintings, the largest and most valuable collection west of the Missouri river. The State Library contains 60,000 volumes, and the Free Public Library 12,000 volumes, the property of the city. The order of Odd Fellows maintains a library of 8,000 volumes. The city has 4 flouring mills, 4 planing mills, 2 box factories, 1 broom factory, 1 cannery, 2 wineries, 7 carriage manufactories, 2 spice mills, 3 potteries, 5 foundries and 1 glue factory. Sacramento is lighted with gas and electricity. The water-works is the property of the city. The streets are wide, and cross at right-angles. The business portion is built of brick, and the residence portion of wood. Almost every residence yard is lawned and planted with orange-trees, palms, etc. The climate is semi-tropical, and in the open air the year around there is a luxuriant growth of trees and flowers. The principal shipments from here are fruits of all kinds, green, dried and canned, hops, raisins, wines, flour and nuts. There are 2 large places of amusement, the Clunie Opera House and Metropolitan Theatre, each with a seating capacity of about 1,200. There are 2 street-car lines, and it is proposed to run an electric railway. Telephone communication. The assessed value of real and personal property is $12,000,000, and the bonded indebtedness $1,500,000. The distance by rail from San Francisco is 90 miles, and by boat 125 miles. THE LEADING PAPERS OF CALIFORNIA.

THE SACRAMENTO DAILY

RECORD-UNION

AND THE

WEEKLY UNION

Are the Pioneer Journals which, from early years in the history of the Coast, have maintained the

FRONT RANK IN JOURNALISM,

Having every news facility with the San Francisco and Leading Dailies, and sustaining the fullest public confidence. The only papers on the Coast, outside of San Francisco, which receive the Full Associated Press Dispatches and Specials.

In all respects the BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM on the Pacific Coast. Clean in all departments, and therefore pre-eminently THE Family Journal for the Merchant, Farmer, Mechanic, and all who desire the full news of the day presented in a cleanly manner. It will go to greater lengths to build up Northern and Central California than any paper on the Coast.

THE "WEEKLY UNION"

Has the largest circulation of any paper on the Pacific Slope, its readers being found in every town and hamlet, with a constantly increasing list in the Eastern States and Europe. Special attention paid to the publication of truthful statements of the resources of California and the entire Coast; Best Methods of Agriculture, Fruit and Vine Growing. The Best Paper for the HOMESEEKER.

All Postmasters are Agents.

TERMS:

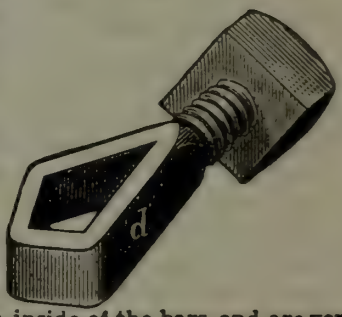
Souney's Patent Improved Cylinder Tooth.

The engravings show a Patent Improved Cylinder Tooth for Grain Threshers, which combines great strength and durability; also the advantage of being easily inserted and remaining firmly in place. The object of the improvement is to secure a more practicable and serviceable Threshing Cylinder, with greater strength of parts and facility of repairs because of the easy removal of worn teeth, and the substitution of new ones

The advantage of the reversible tooth is obvious, aside from the benefit of its great strength. An old style cylinder can be readily changed to receive the improved teeth, and the cost will be more than saved in one season.



The body of the tooth, being large, is stronger than the shank of the ordinary tooth, which is its weakest point, and at which point the ordinary tooth breaks, causing loss of time, too. We claim the chief advantage lies in the facility of removing and renewing the teeth, and thereby saving time and anxiety. Ordinarily the securing nuts of the teeth are inside of the bars, and are very difficult to reach; but in this improvement the nuts lie on the side of the bars, and can be reached with an ordinary wrench, making the means for securing the teeth both simple and effectual.

SAN BERNARDINO. The county seat of the county bearing the same name, is situated in a charming valley, at an elevation of 1,070 feet above the ocean, from which it is some 70 miles inland, and is sheltered on the north and east by the San Bernardino mountains. It is located on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe R'y, giving transportation east to eastern cities, and west to Los Angeles and Ballona harbor, and south to San Diego. The Southern Pacific R. R. is reached through the motor road to Colton, giving an outlet via Los Angeles to San Francisco and San Pedro at the sea, and south to New Orleans. It was first settled in 1852, and incorporated as a city in 1886. The population at the present time is estimated at 10,000, and the assessed value of the real and personal property is $4,000,000, with no bonded indebtedness. The churches here are Episcopal, Presbyterian, Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Catholic, Christian and Latter-day Saints. It has three school buildings, one principal public-school building, a handsome brick structure, containing three grammar and one advanced grammar, and three primary grades, also two ward-school buildings of primary grade. Ten teachers are employed, and the number of pupils enrolled is over 900. There are also three private schools, all in a prosperous condition. Fraternal societies are well represented, amongst them are the F. A. M., I. O. O. F., K. of P., O. C. F., A. O. U. W., I. O. G. T., and posts of G. A. R. The city is well laid out, and contains many handsome buildings, those of note recently erected being Stewart Hotel, at a cost of $150,000, Anderson & Harrison Building, $75,000, and St Charles, $30,000. The Opera House here seats 1,000. A large number of artesian wells supply an abundance of pure water, the city is also well lighted with gas, has street railways, telephone connection, and all requisites necessary for a prosperous and rapidly-growing place. In the vicinity are a number of pleasant resorts, amongst them Arrowhead Springs, 7 miles north, to which there are daily stages; Harlem Hot Springs, 5 miles northeast, Rabel Hot Springs, 4½ miles east, and Crafton, near the terminus of the S. B. V. R. R. Principal shipments, dried and canned fruits, honey and wines. Tel., W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. Mail, daily. John T. Knox, postmaster.

The Abstract and Title Company

OF SAN BERNARDINO

After a large outlay of capital, and nearly a year's hard work, we have

A Complete System of Property Indexes.

The experience of Searchers of Records and Title Companies throughout the United States, has demonstrated the fact beyond argument, that the method of searching titles by means of so-called Grantor-Grantee Indexes, in which the connection is obtained by the names of the various owners, is not only laborious and expensive but highly unsafe, since one unrecorded deed in the chain of title, forms an unsurmountable obstacle to the examiner, and by this method only those titles that are perfect can be searched, and the defects and omissions, which are often the sole object of the abstract, cannot be found unless by merest accident. Yet this is the method in which the County Indexes throughout California are made, and also of all other Abstract Companies in San Bernardino County at present. The latter adopting it, presumably, from the comparatively slight expense in their preparation; however in all matters of every nature are indexed directly to each separate lot in the County, without reference to breaks in the title, and a page of a property index shows at a glance the complete history of the parcel indexed upon it. We can therefore prepare Abstracts and Certificates of Title

Property Indexes, the Only Perfect System,

Safer at one-half the expense and one-quarter the time than any other firm in the County.

The name of the owner of any piece of Land or a List of the Property owned by any party furnished at once upon application.

We refer by permission to FIRST NATIONAL BANK of San Bernardino; FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Colton; LEWIS JACOBS, Manager Bank of San Bernardino; W. S. HOOPER, San Bernardino National Bank; JAMES LEE & Co., Colton, Cal.; L. G. HAIGHT, Redlands, Cal.; Dr. W. R. FOX, Colton, Cal.; WICKS & WARD, Los Angeles; JAS. A. SAN DIEGO. The name of this city means "St. James," and was first given to the famous bay on which it is situated by Sebastian Vizcaino, who surveyed it in 1602. The bay was, however, first discovered by the Portuguese navigator Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo in 1542. The history of the city dates back to 1769, when Friar Francis Junípero Serra founded here the first of that chain of missions in the territory which is now embraced in the state of California, which were afterwards extended along the coast as far north as Sonoma county. This mission was established at the present Old Town of San Diego. The pueblo of San Diego was organized in 1835, making it the oldest municipality in the state. In 1846, California passed under the American government, and the city's title to the pueblo lands was guaranteed by treaty with Mexico and confirmed by the U. S. government. From that time the city had its ups and downs, until it was made the Pacific Coast terminus of the Santa Fe system, in 1885. Then began an era of phenomenal development. Streets have been graded and improved; substantial brick business blocks have been erected; street railway lines cross the city in every direction; motor and electric railroads communicating with progressive suburbs are now running, and more building; electric lights on 125-feet masts illuminate the city; and the population has increased from 4,000 to about 25,000 at a conservative estimate. San Diego is the county seat of San Diego county. Among the special advantages of the city, besides its noted climate, is its magnificent harbor, which vessels drawing twenty-two feet can enter at low tide at all seasons. The land rises gradually from the water's edge, thus affording beautiful views from the residences in all parts of the city. This formation gives opportunity for an admirable sewer system, now constructing at a cost of $400,000. Almost in the heart of the city there has been set apart, by legislative enactment, a city park of 1,400 acres. As yet it is unimproved. In addition to this, the city owns several thousand acres a few miles out, and so will never lack for resources or financial credit. All the various denominations are well represented by good churches, and many of them have new aud elegant edifices. The Y. M. C. A. is erecting a $30,000 building in a central location. The public schools are as good as any in the country, there being at present 25 teachers and over 2,000 pupils. Four daily newspapers are published, the Union and Bee, morning, and the Sun and San Diegan, evening. All are ably-conducted and prosperous journals. The Golden Era, a monthly literary magazine, published for many years in San Francisco, has a large circulation throughout the state. The other monthlies are the West American Scientist, Semi-Topic Planter, Young Men's Journal (Y. M. C. A.), and The Informant. The city is abundantly supplied with water, both from the bed of the San Diego river, three miles distant, and an immense aqueduct, 45 miles long, from a mountain reservoir, which furnishes 6,000 miner's inches of water the year round. Gas-works, electric-works, fire department, telephone communication and all other appliances of a prosperous city are enjoyed. Besides the Santa Fe system, other roads will soon enter San Diego, including the Southern Pacific. The National City & Otay Railway runs 7 times daily between San Diego and Otay, via National City, 9 miles, fare to National City 10 cents, to Otay, 25 cents. The P. C. S. S. Co.'s steamers call every three days. Steamers of another line leave every other day for Ensenada and other points in Lower California, which are reached by an overland stage line. Fare, by steamer or stage, $5, round trip $7.50. Distance, 65 miles. Stage daily to La Jolla, 12 miles, fare $1. Exp., W. F. & Co. Tel., W. U. Allen D. Norman, postmaster.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
Merchants' Patrol and Detective Agency

(Incorporated under the Laws of California)

CAPITAL STOCK - - - - - - $10,000.

FURNISHES PATROLMEN, CUSTODIANS, WATCHMEN, SPECIAL POLICE, DETECTIVES AND JANITORS FOR BUILDINGS OR OFFICES.

Collects Bills of All Kinds in any Place in the United States.

Office: 936 Fourth Street, Sun Building, San Diego.

Telephone 76. P. O. Box 784.

Employs only those detectives who have established reputations for integrity, shrewdness, tenacity of purpose, and who have had long experience and success in their calling. Discards the old maxim of "Set a thief to catch a thief." The honest mind guided by an upright purpose, is surer and safer. Charges a reasonable per diem rate. Gives no guarantee of success except its reputation for reliability and efficiency. All legitimate cases undertaken.

The plan and purpose of this Agency is approved and endorsed by city and county officials and prominent citizens of San Diego.

All communications must be addressed to P. O. Box 784.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
INFORMANT

A JOURNAL OF RELIABLE INFORMATION AND JUST CRITICISM

Gives more minute, definite and practical information regarding Southern California-San Diego City and County in particular—than all other publications combined.

Published every Saturday at 936 Fourth and 1241 D Streets, San Diego, Cal., by the Southern California Information Agency. P. O. Box 784.

Advertising rates made known on application. Subscription rates: One year, $1.50; Six months, $1.00; Three months, 50 cents; Single copy, 5 cents.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA INFORMATION AGENCY

AUGUSTUS MERRILL, - - Manager.

Head Office: 936 Fourth and 1241 D Streets (Sun Building), San Diego, Cal.

RESIDENT AGENTS IN ALL PRINCIPAL TOWNS OF THE STATE. P. O. Box 784.

Reliable information furnished, questions answered, business schemes investigated, individuals looked up, titles examined or any legitimate service rendered and unbiased conservative reports made; charges reasonable and special in each case.

If it is desirable to acquire special knowledge of the location and business of any person believed to be in Southern California, or to know something about the various land and business schemes now being floated and boomed in this land of booms and big stories, this agency can furnish reliable and trustworthy information; all business regarded and treated as strictly confidential. The managers wish it distinctly understood that this agency is not connected with, nor interested in any real estate or any other business schemes.

Send for Circulars. Our Motto: Original, Reliable and Independent.

SAN FRANCISCO. San Francisco is not only the commercial metropolis of California, and of the Pacific coast, but it is on the great highway of travel and commerce to the Orient, and thus commands a large share of American trade with China, Japan, Australia, and the South Seas. This trade makes it the third importing city in the United States, as well as the fourth in point of the number of letters and papers handled by the post-office. It ranks eighth in population, ninth in manufactures, and first in per capita wealth. Its population is estimated at 300,000, with an assessed valuation of $251,962,482 for real and personal property, and with deposits in the savings banks amounting to $60,726,381. The position and natural advantages of the city have given it an almost unparalleled growth during the last 30 years, and promise in the next half-century to make it second only to New York in size and commercial importance. It has the only capacious harbor between Alaska and Panama; it is on the great central line of travel across the continent; it is the terminus of 4 transcontinental railroads; it is the chief market and distributing point for Northern and Central California, — the richest agricultural country west of the Mississippi; it it has a climate which is cool in summer, equable in winter, and permits the laborer and artisan to work in the open air throughout the year.

San Francisco is in latitude 37° 46′ north, longitude 122° 24′ west, and lies on the eastern side of a peninsula, with the bay in front, and the Pacific ocean at its back. The peninsula is 6 miles wide, and the city is now built up closely over one half the distance to the ocean. From north to south the city extends about 8 miles. This peninsula consisted originally of barren sand dunes, covered with a dense growth of live-oak chaparral, and intersected with numerous creeks and lagoons of the bay. This was its condition when, on October 8, 1776, the Franciscan friars added it to their long chain of missions that stretched along the coast from San Diego. On the bay shore, within a mile of the entrance to the harbor, was established the Presidio or barracks of the Spanish garrison. The place had no growth until 1835, when the missions were all secularized. In that year Richardson, an Englishman, established the first trading post in the heart of the present city, and the village that grew up about his store was called Yerba Buena. It was 3 miles from the old mission of San Francisco. The conquest of the state by the Americans transformed Yerba Buena, and in 1847 its name was changed to San Francisco. The gold discovery at once lifted it into prominence, but the first few months saw it wellnigh deserted in the great rush into the mines; but by 1850 the tide set in toward this natural trading post for the state, and its growth was phenomenal. In July, 1848, it had not over 500 people, while by the end of 1849 its population numbered 20,000.

Great difficulties were encountered by the early builders, owing to the many hills, ravines and swamps. To give place for business along the water-front, a portion of the bay, about a mile square, was filled in. Since then a large part of Mission creek has been made solid ground, while at North Beach another large area has been reclaimed from the bay. Hills were levcled and ravines filled up, so that now the comparatively level portion of the city forms an area of 41¾ square miles. Many steep hills and rolling dunes remain and lend picturesqueness to the residence quarter. The highest peak within the city limits is 938 feet in elevation; the Twin Peaks, just back of the Mission, are each 925 feet; while Lone Mountain, a famous landmark, that bears a wooden cross, is 468 feet; Russian Hill, 400; Telegraph Hill, 294; and Rincon Hill, 120. The three latter are in the thickly settled portion of the city. It is estimated that 25,000,000 cubic yards of earth and sand have been removed in grading, and in many parts of the city this work cost more than the value of the property. The city is laid out in rectangular blocks, with streets at right angles, except Market street, the great central highway which cuts through the heart of the city from southwest to northeast, a distance of about 10 miles. It is 100 feet wide, and is the Broadway of San Francisco, lined with many costly buildings. At its foot is the terminus of all the transcontinental railroads, of the Oakland ferries and of the cable and horse railroads.

In the residence quarter nearly all the houses are built of wood, as this is far cheaper than brick or stone, and better adapted to the climate. The cool weather makes San Franciscans eager to get the sun, hence the almost universal use of bay-windows and the absence of shade-trees. The lack of trees is compensated by many fine lawns, which are kept green throughout the year, and by the profusion of flowers and ornamental shrubs which adorn most of the front yards. Semi-tropical plants which thrive only in hot-houses at the east, here grow and bloom in the open air. The 1,200 miles of streets are well paved, mainly with basalt blocks and wooden planks. Many superb residences have been built by railroad and mining millionaires. The crest of California street, known as "Nob Hill," boasts of a score of costly residences, including those of Senator Stanford, which cost $3,000,000; Mrs. Hopkins, $1,500,000; James L. Flood, the Bonanza millionaire, $3,000,000; Charles Crocker, one of the founders of the Central Pacific Railroad, $1,500,000. In other parts of the city are many residences that cost over $500,000. All these houses are of wood, with the single exception of Mr. Flood's, which is built of Connecticut brown stone. In Senator Stanford's residence the decoration of rooms cost more than $500,000, and the pictures and furniture are valued at $1,000,000.

There has been a great change in the architecture of business buildings within the last fifteen years. The old style was limited to three stories in height because of fear of earthquakes. Now eastern methods of building prevail, and structures of six or eight stories are being built, while the new Chronicle building will be nine stories high with a tower. Among the notable buildings of the city are the New City Hall, which has already cost $4,000,000, and will require $2,500,000 to finish it; the U. S. Mint, built of California granite and Newcastle Island freestone; the Palace Hotel, the largest hotel in the world, 7 stories high, cost $7,000,000, and will accommodate 1,200 people; Stock Exchange, Safe Deposit Building, Bank of California, Baldwin Hotel, Phelan Block, Odd Fellows' Hall, The Bancroft Building, Lachman's Building, the Synagogue Emanu-El, St. Ignatius Church, the Walkerley Building, the Starr King Building.

One of the chief factors in the development of San Francisco has been the cable-car system, which was started in 1875 on Clay street hill, the road being 2 miles long and overcoming an elevation of 120 feet. Since then, the growth of the cable system has been very rapid, the steep hills of California, Union and Washington streets have been climbed, and the entire cable mileage now amounts to 27 miles, and the horse-railroads to 34¾. The main cable line is the Market street system, which starts at the foot of Market street, and which has branches that run on Valencia, Haight, Castro and McAllister streets. The managers of this system, composed mainly of the directors of the Southern Pacific Company, also own and operate other cable and horse car lines. Other prominent cable lines are the California, Geary, Union, Sutter and the Powell street roads. The latter has recently been opened, and is the first complete cross-town cable road. It will also soon run from the Cliff House to the ferries. No less than four cable lines extend to Golden Gate Park. These cable roads, on which the uniform fare is five cents, have brought residence property in the hilly portion of the city within easy reach of the business quarter, and have greatly increased its value. The rapid building up of California, Washington, Haight and McAllister streets is largely due to these roads.

CITY ADMINISTRATION.

The city government consists of a mayor and a board of 12 supervisors, with city clerk, auditor, tax collector, sheriff and treasurer. Twelve judges preside over as many departments of the Superior Court, while there are police court and justices' courts. The United States Supreme, Circuit and District Courts also hold sessions here. The police force numbered July 19, 1887, 406 men, who made 21,091 arrests for the fiscal year. The fire department employs 345 men, 15 engines, 8 hose carts and 5 hook and ladder companies; property lost by fire during last fiscal year amounted to $870,219. The city is supplied with water by the Spring Valley Water Company, which cost $9,000,000; it brings most of its water from San Mateo county, 23 miles distant, in large pipes; daily consumption amounts to 18,000,000 gallons; capacity is 25,000,000 gallons; the company is building one of the largest storage dams in the world, 140 feet high, with a capacity of 40,000,000,000 gallons. Gas is furnished by two companies, whose works cost $6,625,000; daily capacity is 4,000,000 cubic feet; no. of street lights 5,100, electric lights 110; there are 2,000 miles of telegraph wires, and 2,008 of telephone wires. During 1887 there were 1,346 births, 2,977 deaths, or a death rate of 17.02 per 1,000; suicides 76; murders 24; executions 1; no. of liquor saloons 2,857; highest annual license $164; lowest annual license $84.

FINANCES.

San Francisco's assessment roll for 1887 was as follows: real estate $191,594,054; personal property $60,368,428. The estimated value of all real estate and improvements is $400,000,000. The rate of taxation is $1.75 on each $100. Revenue for fiscal year ending June, 1887, was $3,613,862; expenditures $3,568,517; city debt $2,230,000. There are 8 savings banks, with a capital, July 1, 1887, of $1,692,740, and with deposits amounting to $60,726,381, 7 commercial banks, with deposits of $26,943,962, besides 7 branches of foreign banks and three large private banks. The bank clearings for 1887 were $829,181,929.

COMMERCE.

The merchandise exports by sea for 1887 were $35,856,061; exports by rail $413,347,820; total merchandise exports for the year $449,203,881. Of the exports by sea the following were the chief articles, with comparisons with 1874 and 1885:—

ARTICLES.	1874	1885	1887
Wheat.....	$14,000,000	$16,125,218	$14,647,510

Barley....	289,000	240,100	506,134
Wine.....	600,000	629,279	889,788
Quicksilver	711,000	484,765	725,353
Salmon...	.....	909,100	1,065,254

The exports of treasure by sea for 1887 were $15,357,303 against $18,215,204 in 1886, and $15,716,486 in 1884. The receipts of treasure by Wells, Fargo & Co. for 1887 were as follows: from the interior, $24,707,826; from the north coast, $2,152,256; from west coast of Mexico, $1,084,283; total receipts, $27,944,365. The coinage of the mint at San Francisco for 1887 was $23,215,812. Duties collected on foreign imports were $7,627,204 as against $5,964,687 in 1886. Internal revenue receipts were $1,875,845.67 as against $1,597,090.86 for 1886.

The imports of merchandise by sea in 1887 amounted to $41,606,683. Of this amount $8,378,455 was Hawaiian sugar and $471,724 Hawaiian rice, which came in duty free. Staple groceries imported by sea in 1887 were, sugar $8,863,918; tea $1,052,616; coffee $2,513,810; rice $1,047,469. For the first 5 months of 1888, imports of these staples were as follows: sugar $6,373,399; coffee $2,054,520; tea $219,912; rice $479,134. The sugar receipts were the largest ever known here, for 5 months giving a gain of 26,000,000 lbs. as compared with last year. Foreign imports of merchandise for the first 5 months of 1888 were $22,352,480, a gain of $3,356,405 over the corresponding period of 1887. Of this increase $1,228,410 came from the Hawaiian Islands, $1,212,985 from Great Britain and $532,485 from Japan. There was a falling off of $573,797 from China and Hong-Kong.

The cod-fishing fleet in 1887 numbered 8 vessels, and the catch was valued at $1,129,000. The whaling fleet, which now reports here instead of at Honolulu, made an extraordinary record in 1887, the receipts of oil being 33,268 bbls., and of whalebone 642,200 lbs., the whole valued at $1,482,165. The number of vessels reporting here was 41, as against 43 in 1885 and 11 in 1874. The fur-seal pelts brought to this port in 1887 were 133,931, valued in raw state at $669,655.

Regular lines of steamers ply between San Francisco and Yokohoma, Hong-Kong, Honolulu and all Australian, Mexican and Central American ports, while recently the city was made the terminus of the New Canadian Pacific Steamship line, Victoria, B. C., being a way-port on the through line to China. Of coast steamers there are a large number, one line running as far north as Alaska.

MANUFACTURES.

In the sketch of California will be found a full list of the chief manufactures of San Francisco, with the number of men employed and the capital invested. It will suffice to say that the annual product of manufactures amounts to $86,000,000, and that 31,362 men are regularly employed. The largest manufactures are those of boots and shoes $5,400,000, breweries $3,000,000, cigars $6,000,000, clothing $4,000,000, flour $3,000,000, fruit-canning $2,250,000, provisions $2,400,000, sash, door and blind $6,000,000, sugar $9,000,000, woolens $1,300,000. There has been a great advance made within the last few years in iron ship-building. One of the most extensive plants for ship-building in the country, with a stone dry-dock admitting vessels of 6,000 tons. Here has been built the new government cruiser Charleston, and the cruiser San Francisco is now in process of construction. Most of the steel for these vessels was made here.

PARKS AND PLEASURE RESORTS.

There are 8 public parks in San Francisco, but the only one of any size is Golden Gate Park, with an area of 1,013 acres, a half mile wide, and stretching 3 miles away until it reaches the ocean. About $1,000,000 has been spent in improvements, and the park to-day is one of the most attractive in the country. Among its features are a large conservatory of rare plants, a children's play-ground given by the late ex-Senator Sharon, and a speed-track. The drive to the ocean beach through the park affords many fine views. Among notable statues in the park are those of Garfield, Halleck and Francis Scott Key. Next to the park as an attractive resort is the presidio military reservation, with an area of 1,500 acres. It fronts on the Golden Gate, and has an ocean and bay shore of nearly 4 miles. Here are the officers' quarters and barracks of the United States troops stationed at this place. The fine roads, ornamental trees and plants and superb views of bay, ocean and surrounding hills and mountains make the presidio even more picturesque than the park. The cemeteries, which lie about half-way between the heart of the city and the Pacific, may fairly be classed among the parks, as they abound in flowering shrubs and plants and command magnificent prospects. Many of the tombs, especially in the Catholic cemetery, are works of art, and several cost $40,000 each.

One of the famous suburban resorts is the Cliff House, built on a high bluff overlooking the ocean and the Golden Gate. About 200 yards distant are several rocky islands, the favorite resort of a large number of sea lions.

San Francisco has been pronounced by travelers the most cosmopolitan city in this country. It has quarters devoted almost exclusively to German, French, Mexican, Portuguese, Italian and Chinese residents. The favorite residence place of foreigners is North Beach; around the slopes of Telegraph Hill it is rare that one hears English spoken, whole streets being occupied by Mexicans, Italians or Portuguese. The Chinese quarter is a reproduction of a section of Shanghai or Canton. It is 4 city blocks in length and from 2 to 3 blocks in breadth. The ordinary blocks are cut into many subdivisions by narrow alleys, and the place swarms with human life, no less than 25,000 Chinese being gathered here. They are very gregarious. Cellars and sub-cellars are utilized, while every inch of space is economized. Partitions, flying galleries and box-like rooms give quarters for hundreds in an ordinary building, while in some of the great lodging-houses as many as 1,000 are packed away. The stores, temples and theaters are fitted up in the native style, and are gorgeous in barbaric red, yellow and gold.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The public school system of San Francisco is one of the best in the country, the appropriations having always been extremely liberal. The number of children of school age in the city in June 1887 was 78,246, and the daily average attendance in all the public schools was 31,316. The receipts of the school department for the fiscal year 1886–87 were $843,541.43, while the school tax was $11.43 cents on the $100. The estimated value of public-school property in the city was $3,184,575. The number of teachers was 799, of whom 739 were women. Of the school children 56,218 had foreign parents, 16,757 had one foreign parent, while 20,923 had American parents. There are over 100 private schools and colleges in the city, attended by 12,167 pupils. Graduates of the high schools of San Francisco are admitted without examination to the University of California at Berkeley. There are also a number of professional schools in theology, medicine and law, and one art school. Of the libraries in the city, the largest is the Free Library, supported by the state, with 71,000 volumes. The Mercantile has a fine collection of 52,000 volumes, the Mechanics' 40,000, the Odd Fellows' 45,000, and the Law Library 26,000. There are several large clubs, all with good libraries, and many societies also provided with large collections of books. The largest private library in the country is also here, that of Hubert Howe Bancroft, the historian of the Pacific States. It includes 30,000 volumes, and is richer in Americana, especially in works relating to the early history of the Pacific Coast, than any collection in the world. It is valued at $250,000. Upward of 100 newspapers and periodicals are published in the city. The leading daily papers are the Chronicle, Examiner, Call, Alta, Bulletin, Post, Report and Demokrat.

CHURCHES AND CHARITIES.

The various Protestant denominations are represented by over 70 churches and chapels, while the Roman Catholics have 19 churches and many chapels. The Hebrews have 7 synagogues, and the Russo-Greek Church has 2 edifices. The largest church building is St. Ignatius Church and college (Jesuit); the church will seat 6,000 people, and its spires are 275 feet high, the loftiest in the state. The synagogue Emanu-El is also an imposing building. The asylums and benevolent associations are numerous, while there are British, German, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Scandinavian, Swiss and Sclavonian societies devoted to the aid of their respective nationalities.

ESTABLISHED IN 1875.

NAVIGATION SCHOOL, 404 and 406 Beale St., S. F.

Authorized by the Board of Marine Underwriters of San Francisco.

Director, CAPTAIN E. McNEVIN.

Examining Officers, Appointed by Board, CAPTAIN H. H. WATSON, CAPTAIN G. CUMMING.

The School is open daily (Saturdays Excepted) from 3 to 5 P. M., and from 7 to 10 P. M., for the instruction of pupils in all branches of Navigation. The course is thorough and will enable those taking it to obtain Certificates of competency as required by the U. S. Shipping Act. Masters and mates of vessels will find this School specially adapted to fit them for passing the examination made necessary by the said Act.

The use of nautical instruments, as the Chronometer, Compass, Sextant, Azimuth, etc., practically taught and illustrated. Instruments and books (including McNEVIN'S Works on Navigation and Marine Laws, etc.), can be procured at this school.

Lectures to pupils each Friday, on Ship-Masters' Duties, Maritime and Commercial Law, and Seamanship.

Terms reasonable, and to suit convenience of pupils. Applications for further particulars may be made to CAPTAIN McNEVIN, at the School, after 2 P. M.

and later in 1850 was incorporated as a city. Located some 80 feet above the sea-level, in the Santa Clara valley, between two small rivers, the Guadalupe and the Coyote, about 1½ miles apart, affording excellent facilities for perfect drainage, with a climate and surroundings unsurpassed; its fine drives, bordered with luxuriant foliage, elegant residences, and the numerous medicinal springs in the vicinity, all combine to make it one of the most attractive and popular resorts in the state. It is reached by the Central Pacific, South Pacific Coast and the S. P. R. R., all operated by the latter company, and is 150 miles south of Sacramento, and by the shortest route, the S. P. C. line, is 46 southeast of San Francisco. The present population of the city is estimated at 23,000. The assessed value of real and personal property, $12,437,000, with a bonded indebtedness of $500,000, repayable $25,000 annually, the first of which has been paid, leaving $475,000. These bonds were issued to meet cost of City Hall and sewerage. Street improvements are paid for by property holders. It has churches of about all the denominations, and as an educational center holds a high rank, being the seat of the University of the Pacific, Notre Dame convent, the State Normal School, the Garden City Business College, and the public schools. The free library contains 8,000 and the San Jose Law Library 2,000 volumes. Among its manufacturing interests may be mentioned 2 planing mills, a box factory, 5 foundries, 7 windmill manufactories, a flour mill, 2 feed mills, a pottery, a woolen mill, a furniture factory, 2 tanneries, several canneries, and large wineries. The buildings of note are the University, Notre Dame Convent, Catholic Church, Court House, State Normal School, City Hall, Bank of San Jose, and the San Jose Safe Deposit Building. California theater has seating accommodation for 1,200. The city is well lighted by gas and electricity, for the latter a tower

OF the many noted valleys of California there is probably none more favored by nature and none more attractive to the seeker of a prosperous and happy home than Santa Clara valley. While its attractions are not to be measured by the gauge of the commercial mark alone, yet the opportunities which presents for money-making are varied and inviting, but beyond and above all is a climate whose vivifying and conserving effects can have no price in dollars and cents. In this respect the valley may well be compared with the most favored health resorts on either of the great continents. The county of Santa Clara has an area of about 1,000,000 acres. Of this about 350,000 acres are valley; 300,000 are rolling hills and mountain slopes, well adapted to trees and vines; the residue valuable principally for pasturage. San Jose, the "Garden City" of the Pacific Coast, is the county seat of Santa Clara county, and is situated fifty miles south of San Francisco, with which it is connected by three lines of railroad. The county has a population of over 50,000, of which 30,000 is located in San Jose and its suburbs. The county assessment list for 1887 was $43,513,521, and of all the taxes levied only $2851.64 was returned delinquent. San Jose is lighted by electricity, the center of the system being a tower 200 feet high, and surmounted with six lamps aggregating 24,000 candle-power. Masts and cranes are placed throughout the city and suburbs, making it one of the most perfectly lighted cities in the world. The water comes from pure mountain springs, and the supply is inexhaustible. It has the most complete sewerage system on the coast, and is free from all malarial diseases. Its public school system is equal to any in the United States. There are five magnificent school buildings, furnished with all the appliances known to modern educational methods. In addition to the public schools, it has the State Normal School, University of the Pacific, College of Notre Dame, the Socratic School of Science, the San Jose Institute, the Home Seminary for Young Ladies, the California School of Elocution and Oratory, the Pacific Conservatory of Music and the Garden City Business College, besides a number of minor private institutions. At Santa Clara is located the famous Santa Clara College, and at Palo Alto the Leland Stanford Jr. University, endowed with $20,000,000 worth of property. Thirteen miles east of San Jose is the Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton, with the largest telescope in the world. The city owns large and beautiful parks in its limits, and a natural park of 400 acres in the foothills six miles to the east.

Among its advantages as a place of residence not the least is the facility with which places of importance and interest can be reached, — San Francisco in 1½ hours, Del Norte, Monterey and Pacific Grove in 2½ hours, Santa Cruz, a delightful watering-place, in 1½ hours. The mountains on either side abound in magnificent scenery, and furnish inexhaustible fields for recreation. The streams are full of trout, and the hills furnish plenty of game for the sportsman. Besides the hundreds of magnificent highways, we have avenues and drives that are historical. The famous "Alameda," established over a hundred years ago by the Jesuit fathers, connects San Jose with Santa Clara; the Santa Clara avenue, seven miles long, leads from San Jose to the mineral springs in the City Park, and the Lick avenue, twenty-six miles in length, goes to the Lick Observatory on the summit of Mt. Hamilton, through some of the most picturesque scenery on the continent. Our manufacturing resources are just beginning to be developed, and offer lucrative employment for capital. We have unlimited supplies of raw material, and have for a market for our manufactured articles the uncounted millions of Asia, the South Sea Islands and South America, while the territories and the Pacific states are easily reached and will consume all the manufactured products we can put on the market in many years. Capital invested in factories in this county will yield a magnificent return. The character of the soil, the peculiarities of the climate, and the situation as regards transportation and market combine to place this county at the head of the fruit-growing countries of the world. The variety of fruit that can be grown is infinite. Every plant that has been put into the soil has thriven wonderfully and produced abundantly. In a single season trees, shrubbery and flowers attain a growth which it would take four or five years to reach in other localities. From eight to eighteen feet of growth per year on fruit-trees is nothing unusual. The fertility of the soil and mildness of the climate insures immense crops of fruit, and makes every ten acres of ground a competence. The county produced 5,000,000 gallons of wine in 1887, and the fruit that was canned and dried amounted to over 20,339,106 pounds, besides the many millions of pounds that were consumed at home or were shipped away in a fresh state. The yield per acre of fruits is enormous. French prunes and apricots have been known to bring an income of from five to eight hundred dollars per acre in exceptional cases. The crop of prunes from ten acres has sold for five years on the trees at from $3,000 to $4,500 per year. Most of our fruits bear a paying crop in three to four years from planting. The work of fruit-growing is not generally laborious. Several of the best orchards in the county are taken care of by women.

Our wine crops offer profitable investment for unlimited capital. The building of cellars and the care of the choice wines produced in this valley will bring a sure return of twenty-five per cent per annum on every dollar invested in the business. That the market is sure, both for fruit and wine, is shown by the fact that in February of the present year it was impossible to find a respectably large invoice of either fruit or three-year-old wine in the valley. One great advantage which Santa Clara county possesses over other localities is the large supply and cheapness of its building materials. The redwood forests of the Santa Cruz mountains which bound the valley on the west yield vast quantities of the best lumber for general use. The best brick in the state are manufactured in San Jose. A peculiar clay is found here, from which is made a brick unexcelled anywhere. Inexhaustible quarries of a beautiful and pure sandstone are found a few miles from San Jose. It is extensively used in the best buildings in San Francisco, and the great Stanford University buildings are being constructed from it. San Jose has thirteen fine church buildings, and every religious denomination is represented. Street cars run to all parts of the city, and ten miles of electric road is now nearly in operation. A magnificent hotel, costing $250,000, and situated in the center of a tract of twelve acres planted with choicest shrubbery, is nearing completion. A new City Hall is in process of building, and will be completed in the present year. There is also a paid fire department, and an efficient fire alarm telegraph system. San Jose and Santa Clara county offer more inducements to all classes of thrifty people than any other locality in the world. There are scores of enterprises in which capital to any amount can find profitable investment, while the fruit and vine resources enable any man of moderate means to become independent without irksome toil. In this favored section the problem, "What shall we do with our boys?" has been satisfactorily solved. The orchards and vineyards furnish a remunerative field for the young of both sexes. In an article of this kind it is impossible to give details, but to those desiring further knowledge full particulars will be sent on application to the Board of Trade. The rooms of the Board in San Jose are always open, and contain samples of products, with full explanations as to how and where they were grown or manufactured.

SAN LUCAS. This place was commenced with the opening of the S.P.R.R. through here in October, 1886. It is on the Salinas river, in Peach Tree township, Monterey county, 60 miles south of Salinas, the county seat. It has a public school with one teacher and about 25 pupils, and a good machine shop, hotels, stores, etc. Population, 200. Its principal shipment is grain. Goldwater's hall, a place of amusement, will seat 300 people. The land in the vicinity is good, consisting of a sandy, chalky soil and some adobe, all very productive when not caught by an occasional drought. A good number of people are settling in here, and the place is growing. Exp., W. F. & Co. Tel., W. U. Simon Goldwater, postmaster.

SAN LUCITA. San Luis Obispo county. See Morro.

SAN LUIS. On the tri-weekly mail stage route between Gilroy and Merced, 40 miles east of the former. No postoffice.

SAN LUIS OBISPO. Is the judicial seat of San Luis Obispo county. The city is on the P. C. R'y, 10 miles from its embarcadero, Port Harford, 200 miles south of San Francisco and 196 north of Los Angeles. The site was first settled by Franciscan friars in 1772 (their mission buildings being still here), organized as a town in 1859, and incorporated as a city March 20, 1876. The city is very prettily situated in a small valley surrounded by rolling hills and lofty mountains. The churches are Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic and Methodist South. The public schools are excellent, with 9 teachers and about 400 pupils, and maintained at an annual cost of $100,000. The Catholics have 2 private schools. Shipments consist of barley, wheat, beans, butter, asphaltum, bituminous rock and other products, both vegetable and mineral. There is a flour mill, planing mill and machine shop. Assessed value of property $1,758,000, bonded indebtedness $20,000. Population, 3,500. The court house is an elegant structure, costing $40,000. There is also a well-kept county hospital in the hillside, valued at $30,000. The city owns a good city hall, and there is an amusement hall with 500 seating capacity. There is also a well-equipped fire department, electric lights, gas and water works, a new street railway and telephone communication. The land in the vicinity is of the best quality, producing large crops. Special mention should be made of the famous bituminous rock that is quarried here in enormous quantities, with an inexhaustible supply. It is a natural paving material superior to any manufactured product. It is shipped in large quantities to San Francisco and Los Angeles. Quicksilver, chromium, silica, limestone, coal, copper, gold and silver are found. Mineral springs abound in the county. Daily stage to Templeton, fare $2.50; La Panza, fare $3, Wednesday and Saturday; and Cayucos, fare $1.50, daily

SANTA BARBARA. Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, a Portuguese navigator, landed at the place where this city now stands in 1542. Franciscan frairs established a mission here in 1786, and in 1841 Santa Barbara and San Francisco were of equal size. Then came the rush for gold, and the incorporation of this territory into the American Union when the wealth and population centered farther north. Afterwards this city became famous through the correspondence abroad of Charles Nordhoff and other writers. The city is the county seat of Santa Barbara county, 288 miles south of San Francisco, and on the S. P. R. R., 106 miles from Los Angeles. It has Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian and Unitarian churches, with a flourishing Young Men's Christian Association. The public schools employ 20 teachers with an attendance of 1,000 pupils. There is a public library of 5,000 volumes, and a Catholic school — St. Vincent's Institution—with 4 teachers and 120 pupils. Principal shipments, fruits, olive oil, English walnuts, pampas plumes and vegetables. Assessed value of real and personal property, $6,500,000. The city has gas works and an electric light system, water works, a well-equipped fire department, telephone communication, street cars, and a theater seating 1,200, and 2 banks. The press is represented by 2 thriving republican dailies, The Morning Press and the Evening Independent. Each of these have a weekly edition, and there is also a live Democratic weekly, the Herald. Daily stage to Los Olivos, fare $5. Population, 7,500. Exp., W. F. & Co. Tel., W. U. Wm. Lavies, postmaster.

SANTA CLARA. Occupies the lovely site of the mission of the same name, founded by the Jesuit fathers in 1777, in Santa Clara county. It is reached by the S. P. R. R. and the S. P. C. R'y, being 3 miles from San Jose, the county seat, and 44 from San Francisco. It is connected with the former by electric railway. As a place of residence it is one of the most pleasant in the state, and is besides a place of considerable business importance. The assessed value of real and personal property of the town is $1,305,815, and the bonded indebtedness $6,500, issued for sewer purposes. Religion is represented by Catholic, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Advent and Christian churches. Education by the public schools, with 11 teachers and 450 pupils; it also is the location of Santa Clara College, conducted by the Society of Jesus. Amongst the notable business enterprises may be mentioned G. M. Jarvis Co.'s distillery and winery, with a capacity of 200,000 gallons of wine and 25,000 of brandy. The latter ranks with the best French, and has taken first prize wherever exhibited. The Pacific Mnfg. Co. have large works here, and amongst other things make a specialty of cyclone windmills. Sash, door and blind factory, a tannery, a fruit drying and packing establishment, with several wineries, are also in operation. The California Home for the Care and Training of Feeble-minded Children is located here. A bank with a capital of $300,000 is one of the solid institutions of the town. A weekly paper, the Journal, is published. Daily stage to Saratoga, 9 miles. Population, 3,000. Tel., W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. Mail, daily. I. N. Thompson, postmaster.

SANTA CLARA COUNTY.

See descriptive sketches of counties, pages 89 to 110.

SANTA CRUZ. The county seat of the county of the same name is a port of entry on Monterey bay, and is also reached by the northern div. S. P. Co and the South Pacific Coast line of the same road. It is 245 miles from Sacramento, and 70 by water or 81 by rail south of San Francisco. The first settlement made here was by a Mexican mission in 1791; it was incorporated as as a city in 1876, and has now a population of 7,000, the assessed value of real and personal property amounting to $2,040,000, with a bonded indebtedness of $57,000. Churches of the city are as follows: Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Adventist, Christian and Roman Catholic. The latter have recently erected a fine edifice, cost $40,0000. The educational facilities are 4 public schools. Four banks are in business here, and 3 newspaper are published, the latter being the Courier-Item, the Sentinel and the Surf,

IS PLACED IN
The Fireman's Fund Ins. Co.
Losses Paid Since Organization, $7,500,000

Amongst the industries may be mentioned 2 planing mills, 3 tanneries, 2 breweries, a shoe factory, a powder mill, and a lime kiln. The city has gas and water works, a fire department, electric light plant, street railway and telephone connection. Within 7 miles of the city are the famous quarries of bituminous rock; this, after being melted, forms a magnificent road bed entirely free from mud.

Located on the northern point of the crescent formed by the Bay of Monteray, it is considered one of the finest bathing resorts in the world. Thousands come here in summer to take advantage of the beach and enjoy the lovely landscapes and magnificent drives. Plenty of fishing and hunting to be had here. Hotel accomodation at reasonble figures. The leading commercial hotel is the Pacific Ocean House, centrally located.

The leading family hotel is the Pope House, beautifully situated, overlooking the bay. This house is open all the year round.

Stage tri-weekly to Pescadero, $2.50; Boulder Creek, $1. Tel., W. U. and P. P. Exp., W. F. & Co. Mail, daily. Bart Burke, postmaster.

SANTA MARIA. Settled in 1874, is pleasantly located on the Pacific Coast R'y, 31 miles south of San Luis Obispo, the nearest banking point, and 80 north of Santa Barbara, the county seat. It is beautifully laid out, the streets being 120 feet wide, has Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches, a public school building that cost $12,000, a semi-weekly newspaper, the Santa Maria Times, issued Thursdays and Saturdays, and a population of 700. The shipments comprise grain, butter, cheese and live-stock. The village also contains a roller flour mill, and a new hotel just erected at a cost of $25,000. Land in the vicinity, which is adapted to all kinds of fruit and grain, is held at moderate prices, and the inducements to settlers are unusually good. Daily stage to Guadalupe, fare 75 cts. Exp., W. SELMA. Is located on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railway, in district 16, range 22, of the county of Fresno, at a distance of 15 miles from Fresno City, the county seat, 222 miles from San Francisco, and 185 miles from Sacramento, the capital. The area of the country tributary to this point is estimated at 128,000 acres of rich, sandy soil, all of a nature easily irrigable, which is capable of producing every variety of vegetation known to a temperate and semi-tropical country. In addition to grain, in this district, there can be raised to the greatest perfection Indian corn, Egyptian corn, sweet potatoes, and all kinds of vegetables, while the fruits are not surpassed by any part of California. The system of irrigation, which is derived from canals tapping King's river, is of the very best. the supply being amply sufficient, and, being controlled by the land-owners of the district, is furnished at a cost very much less than in the many sections where the systems are owned by corporations. The climate of this portion of California is delightful the year round. Within a short space of time Selma has made rapid progress, and we find it to-day a bustling town of 2,200 people. It has a fine public school building, with 5 teachers, and in the neighborhood of 300 pupils. There are 6 churches, Presbyterian, Episcopal, United Brethern, Baptist and Congregational, with places of worship for the Catholic, Methodist South and Christian denominations now undergoing construction. Water is supplied to the city from 2 tanks of 30,000 gallons capacity, and gas works are contemplated at an early date. Whitson's Hall, seating 400, offers the people a commodious place of amusement. The Bank of Selma has a capital of $100,000, and the Daily Irrigator is published. The Selma Flouring Mill, a large planing mill and the Selma Agricultural Works are the leading institutions of the kind, while the Kutner & Goldstein Block, Barieau Block, Cohen Block and Lemmon Block are prominent structures. During the past year there have been erected about 100 neat dwellings, at a cost of over $100,000, and the Whitson hotel, on the corner of Whitson avenue and 2d street, is now undergoing completion, at a cost of $50,000, and will be open for occupancy May 1st, 1888. It is a fine 3-story brick building, comprising 5 large stores, and is fitted up with all recent improvements, making it second to none in the San Joaquin valley. Shipments of the town are grain, cattle, fruit, wool, hides and farm produce. Telegraph, W. U. Wells, Fargo express. Money-order office. Wm. L. Smith, postmaster.

W. H. DIEDRICK.

The Best Scraper on the Market

Over Two Thousand of these Scrapers have been made and sold, giving entire satisfaction wherever used. Testimonials of reliable and practical men can be furnished to show that the Diedrick Scraper will do more work and remove more dirt than four of the common dump scrapers, thereby saving each day the labor of three or four horses. These Scrapers are made in sizes from three to six feet; two horses will handle three or four foot, and four horses five or six foot scrapers.

SIERRA VALLEY. Located in 1852 on the headwaters of the Feather river in Sierra county, 36 miles east of Downieville, the county seat, and 26 north of Truckee, the nearest tel., exp. and shipping point. A number of saw-mills are operated in the vicinity, and mining is carried on to some extent, but farming and stock-raising are the chief occupations. By means of artesian wells, of which there are 200 in the valley, water is abundant, and is largely used by irrigating the land. This is one of the finest sections for dairy purposes in the county. Mail, tri-weekly. Tri-weekly stage; fares, Truckee $3, Sierra City $4, Johnsville $3. Nearest banks at Reno, Nev. F. Blinman, postmaster.

SISKIYOU COUNTY. See descriptive sketches of counties, pages 89 to 110.

SISSON. Postoffice name Berryvale. Is a station on the Shasta div. S. P. R. R., in Butte township, Siskiyou county. It is a very recent settlement, coming into existence during 1887, yet it bids fair to be one of the finest and most popular summer resorts in the state. It is beautifully located at the foot of Mt. Shasta and at the head of the Sacramento river. Sullaway creek here furnishes power for saw-mills. It has under construction a good system of water works, and the depot here is the finest on the line. Moor's Hall has seating capacity for 200, and a newspaper, the Mt. Shasta Herald, is published every Tuesday. Timber is abundant, and silver ore abounds in the vicinity. It is 42 miles southeast of Yreka, the county seat, and 339 north of San Francisco. Population, 250. Tel, W. U. and P. P. Exp., W. F. & Co. Stage to Fall River Mills, fare $5. Mail, daily. John Ney, postmaster.

SOLEDAD. This place was settled in 1873, and was for a number of years the terminus of the S. P. R. R., which was the occasion for it doing an extensive business with the country southward. But when the work of extending the railroad was begun in 1876 the places south caught the trade, and this town lost its prestige. It is located on the Salinas river, in Monterey county, 26 miles south of Salinas, the county seat, and nearest banking point. It has Methodist and Union church buildings, a good public school, with 2 teachers and 92 pupils enrolled, and a school library of 140 volumes. Ships grain and live-stock, and has a flouring mill. Population, 200. The country is level near the town, and the soil is adobe on one side the town and sandy loam on the other. Stage daily to Paraiso Springs, 7 miles south, fare $1. W. STOCKTON. The county seat of San Joaquin county, was settled by Capt. C. M. Weber in 1847, and was incorporated as a city in 1851, within a year from which it was burnt down, but soon rebuilt on a more substantial basis. Its site is on a level plain in the center of one of the largest and most productive agricultural districts on the Pacific coast. It is on the line of the Southern Pacific Co (Pacific system) and the Stockton & Copperopolis Railroad, and is located at the head of tide-water navigation, which will always afford the citizens easy, speedy and cheap transportation for their products to market. At present their are 18 steamers and 16 barges plying between Stockton and points upon the upper and lower San Joaquin and the interior waters of California. Two lines of steamers ply daily between the city and San Francisco. The principal shipments are wheat, flour, hides and wool and agricultural implements. For climate, health and varied productions it has no superior. The streets are well laid out, the principal ones being macadamized. Among the manufacturing establishments are 2 flour mills, a paper mill, woolen mill, 3 foundries and 2 large carriage and wagon shops. The extent of the agricultural district has made the city an important point for the sale and manufacture of agricultural implements, most of which have been invented and manufactured here, and which are made especially to suit the peculiarities of the climate and soil. There are 3 planing mills, sash, door and blind factory and furniture factory. All religious denominations are represented, and all have costly brick edifices. The State Insane Asylum is located here, and has 1,500 patients. The cost of maintenance is $210,000 annually, nearly all of which sum is disbursed in the city. There are 9 schools, including a high school, from which pupils can graduate and enter the State University without examination. There are 5 banks, including 1 national, a free library containing 10,000 volumns. The principal buildings are the Insane Asylum, Agricultural Pavilion, Masonic Temple, Odd Fellows' Hall, and Court House, now under construction. There are excellent hotel accommodations. Two daily papers are published, The Independent (Republican) and the Mail (Democrat), both able and enterprising journals. The city is lighted by gas and electricity. Several gas-wells have been discovered; the steam at the water-works is made entirely by natural gas, and 1 large mill is operated entirely by it. The distance from San Francisco by rail is 92 miles, and by boat 100 miles. Tel., W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. Population, 20,000. Wm. C. Smith, postmaster.

THE PIONEER HARVESTER BUILDERS OF THE WORLD!

THE "HARVEST QUEEN"

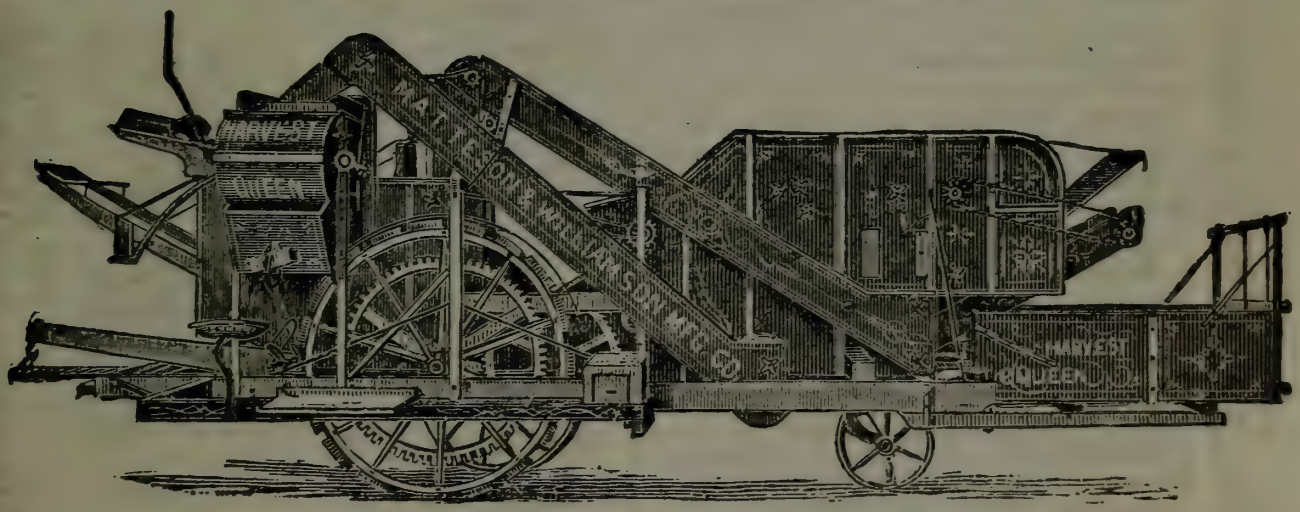
—MANUFACTURED BY—

THE MATTESON & WILLIAMSON MANUFACTURING COMPANY

STOCKTON, CAL.

Established 1869. Has the Best Record of any Combined Harvester now in the Market.

Not one of these Combined Harvesters have been Returned.



MAXWELL, COLUSA CO., CAL., Aug. 30, 1887.

MESSRS. MATTESON & WILLIAMSON—Gentlemen: The 12-foot "Harvest Queen" I bought from you is a complete success, and too much cannot be said in its favor. During the season just past I made a run of 38 days, cutting 1,000 acres, and during the whole time it gave me no bother whatever. For ease of operation, lightness of draft, and cleanliness of work the "Harvest Queen" is THE machine, and I say, without fear of contradiction, that it excells all other machines of its class. It has been my custom to fatten my hogs upon the stubble after harvest, but it is no go this year; they would starve to death. The "Harvest Queen" got it all.

JAS. McDERMOTT.

BIGGS STATION, BUTTE CO., CAL., Sept. 6, 1887.

MESSRS. MATTESON & WILLIAMSON—Gentlemen: I have used the "Harvest Queen," of 14-foot cut, that I bought of you this season. It is, in my judgment, the best I have ever seen. I started up with fourteen head of mules, and the first day I cut 503 sacks of grain, and we averaged 400 sacks a day all through. It gave me great satisfactian in saving and cleaning my grain. I have been around several other harvesters at work, but none works to my satisfaction like the "Harvest Queen."

Yours truly, JAMES BAYNON.

From the foregoing it will be seen that the Harvest Queen is a success, both as a Combined Harvester and a Local Threshing Machine. Orders and correspondence solicited.

SUSANVILLE. The county seat of Lassen county, is a pretty town of about 1,000 inhabitants, beautifully situated at an elevation of 4,200 feet, near the head of Honey Lake valley, on a plateau or tableland, snug up to the base of the Sierra Nevada mountains. It is 57 miles miles northwest of Fort Ham, or 65 from Moran (Chat P.O.), on the Nevada and California R. R., and 100 from Reno, Nev. The first settlement made here was in 1854, since which its growth has been steady and is constantly increasing. It supports 2 weekly newspapers, the Advocate and Weekly Mail, also the same number of churches, Methodist and Congregational. The Susan river furnishes excellent power for planing mill, sash factory and saw-mills. Water-works furnish an abundant supply of fine water from mountain springs, conducted to reservoirs west of town, and distributed under a pressure of over 100 feet. The town also has a well-organized fire company. Four lines of stages center here from north, south and west,—Oroville weekly, Bieber semi-weekly, Likely semi-weekly, Camp Ham daily. Population, 1,000. Mail, daily. C. A. Forkner, postmaster.

TEMPLETON. This place was settled in October, 1886, on the opening of the S. P. R. R. to this point, of which it is the terminus up to this writing. It is situated on the Salinas river, in the county of San Luis Obispo, 24 miles north of the county seat, San Luis Obispo, and 222 miles south of San Francisco. There is at present no church here. A public school with one teacher and 65 pupils. The shipments are live-stock and wheat. Population, 500. The public enterprise of the place is shown in the recent erection of a fine public school building at a cost of $10,000 with the grounds. The land in the vicinity is alluvial soil on the level part, and gravelly red loam on the hillsides. It is most excellent soil for the raising of fruit, grapes and olives. There have been vast orchards and vineyards planted within the past year in this immediate vicinity. Three miles northeast, in the Santa Ysabel valley, is a hot sulphur spring. The nearest banking point is Paso Robles, 6 miles north. Preparations are making for the construction of a substantial brick block, in which will be located a bank. The Templeton Times, an independent weekly newspaper, is issued on Saturdays by Capt. W. D. Haley. Stage communication daily with San Luis Obispo, 24 miles south, fare $2.50; also with Paso Robles, 6 miles north. Exp., W. F. & Co. Tel., W. U. Lyman Brewer is the railroad, express and telegraph agent. Wm. E. Lawton is the postmaster, and he is also stage agent, druggist and stationer.

TULARE. Tulare is located on the main line of the S. P. R. R., 251 miles from San Francisco, and 10 miles from Visalia, the county seat, and was first settled in 1872. It is situated in the center of Tulare county, one of the largest and most important counties in the state, having an area of 6,400 square miles, and forming part of the great San Joaquin valley. Of arable land in the county there are about 2,000,000 acres of varied soil, on which, in addition to the cereals, can be abundantly grown all kinds of temperate and semi-tropical fruits and varieties of vegetation. It is one of the best watered sections of California, and its excellent system of irrigating canals, together with numbers of artesian wells, afford ample water facilities at little cost. Settlers from the east are beginning to appreciate this district as a favorable location for homes, and land is being rapidly taken up. Prices range for unimproved land near the towns at from $40 to $75 per acre. Abundance of timber is found in the mountainous portions, and the valleys also are well supplied. Tulare city has twice suffered severely from fire, which has in each case destroyed the business portion of the town. During the past year this portion of the city has been entirely rebuilt with handsome business blocks that will compare favorably with those of any other inland town in the state. There are 6 churches, of the Congregational, Baptist, Episcopal, Christian, Methodist and Catholic denominations, with one large substantial school-building, with 7 teachers and 500 scholars. There is 1 library with 1,200 volumes. Three halls supply ample accommodation for amusements. The Daily Standard, the Daily Register and the Weekly Free Press keep the people posted in the news of the day, and the Bank of Tulare (capital $100,000) offers a place of security for the surplus cash. Manufacturing interests consists of 1 planing mill, 1 foundry, 1 machine shop, 1 flour mill, with the repair shops of the S. P. R. R. There are 3 lodges of I. O. O. F., 1 A. O. U. W., 1 Knights of Pythias, 1 Masonic, and several other societies. The city is lighted by gas, has good water system supplied from artesian wells, 1 volunteer fire company, and telephone communication with surrounding towns. Principal shipments, wheat, green and dried fruit, cattle, wool and hides. Stage daily to Visalia, tri-weekly to Portersville, Woodville and Farmersville. A motor road is being built to Visalia, with a contemplated railroad from Waukena, through Tulare, into the giant forests. Exp., W. F. & Co, Tel., W. U. Population, 4,000. N. B. Witt, postmaster.

VACAVILLE REPORTER

JAMES D. McCLAIN, Publisher.

The Reporter is published in the Early Fruit Belt of California. Advertising Rates Reasonable.

The Early Fruit Belt comprises Vaca, Pleasant, Laguna and Peaceful Glen Valleys, and the surrounding hills. Our warm, dry climate produces fruit and grapes of the finest grain and a remarkable concentration of juices. The Fruit is Non-Irrigated, and is preferred by canners, consumers and shippers. These natural advantages have made Vacaville the most important fruit shipping point in the State. About 14,000 acres are now planted to fruit and grapes. This district is only 60 miles from San Francisco and 35 from Sacramento. Oranges are sent from this district to the San Francisco market a month earlier than the Los Angeles product. We have a genial, wholesouled, progressive people, with good church, college and public school privileges, and as fine and healthy a climate as the sun shines on.

VISALIA. The county seat of Tulare, was first settled in 1854, incorporated as a city in 1867, and is one of the oldest places in the San Joaquin valley. It lies in the midst of a fertile valley on the Visalia R. R., 9 miles east of its connection with the S. P. Co.'s line at Goshen, 250 miles southeast of San Francisco and 228 from Sacramento. The city contains 3,000 inhabitants, real and personal property to the assessed value of $766,000, and a bonded indebtedness of $12,000. Its principal features are flour and planing mills, iron works, gas and water works, fire department, Presbyterian, Methodist, Catholic, Christian, Episcopal and Baptist churches, 3 schools, employing 13 teachers, with 600 pupils, a bank with a capital of $200,000, and 4 newspapers, the Tulare County Times, and the Weekly Delta, published weekly, the Real Estate Journal and the San Joaquin Valley Resources, monthly. Visalia has well laid out streets, fine business houses, residences and public buildings, notably the court-house, erected at a cost of $100,000. Masonic and Odd Fellows' Temple, the Bank Building, Palace Hotel, Holt Block and Perkins' Building, the latter, a recent addition, cost $10,000. Many residences have been erected of late, and everything points to a steady and prosperous increase to the city. Mail routes from here semi-weekly to Camp Badger, via Churchill, tri-weekly to Porterville, weekly to Yokohl, also to Three Rivers, via Lime Kiln. Tel., W. U. Exp., W. F. & Co. Mail, daily.
